

Concerning the scientific and human experience at the 8th International Geomorphology Conference;

It was a great pleasure to attend the 8th International Geomorphology Conference. I'm very glad to the Conference Committee who encourages the Young Geomorphologists and support their research activities. I was very happy to be granted by the 8th IAG Committee in Paris as a grant holder of the 20 Young Geomorphologists from the developing countries. I would like to express to the Conference Committee our many thanks for the great support.

Hopefully, the IAG can always be a great place where all professionalists including geographers, geologists, geomorphologists, geochronologists etc gather at the same time, exchange knowledge on theory and experiments each other, and share their scientific results.

At the Geomorphological Conference, I was glad to see many professors and graduate students who work at same research subjects, and to receive useful comments and suggestions during my oral presentation at the Session of Quaternary Geomorphology.

I am looking forward to waiting for the next International Geomorphological Conference.
